Media Alert: CNN to Focus Programming on Autism, AAP President-Elect Dr. David Tayloe to Appear on Larry King Live

Today, April 2, 2008, is World Autism Day. CNN will be broadcasting all day coverage beginning at noon. President-Elect David Tayloe, MD, FAAP, will appear on CNN's "Larry King Live" to discuss autism and vaccine safety. The guest list also includes Harvey Karp, MD, FAAP, Jay Gordon, MD, FAAP, autism activist Jenny McCarthy and writer David Kirby. The show is scheduled to air at 9 pm ET.

Please visit www.aap.org for up-to-date information for both parents and pediatricians. Recent additions include an updated, revised "Facts for Parents about Autism and Vaccine Safety" handout (<http://www.aap.org/advocacy/releases/autismparentfacts.htm>), an autism issue kit for journalists (<http://www.aap.org/pressroom/aappr-autism-issuekit.htm>) and updated speaking points for pediatricians about vaccine safety (<http://www.aap.org/moc/immunizations/qa.htm>).

For questions or concerns regarding this blastfax or any other immunization information, please contact the Chapter's EPIC Immunization Program Director, Jill Ray at (404) 881-5081 or email jray@gaaap.org.
